By DANIEL DE LUCE
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 22.—(AP)—The American Seventh Army has captured Castelvetro and Sciacca on the Sicilian south coast in a thunderbolt drive which has placed them but a little over 20 miles from the western tip of Sicily. Allied headquarters reported today. The early fall of Palermo, which would be the greatest victory yet in the Sicilian invasion, was seen as inevitable if this BBC report were correct.

Although there was no confirmation here, it was known that Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.'s vanguard was racing through difficult but poorly defended country toward the north coast, and was within 28 miles of the northern shore.

SUPPLY BASE IS BOMBED

By the Associated Press
Admiral William F. Halsey's headquarters announced today that the Japanese air base at Munda, key to the enemy's defenses in the central Solomons, "now is in reach of capture" as American troops stormed through the jungles within a few thousand yards of the stronghold. At the same time, Australian troops in New Guinea were reported to have crushed nine Japanese counterattacks on Mt. Tabu, only a few miles below the big enemy base at Salamaua, strewn the mountainside with at least 282 Japanese dead. In the skies, U. S. bombers more than 150 strong battered the Japanese with the heaviest aerial attack ever made by either side in the southwest Pacific, raining 133 tons of explosives on enemy forces at Bairoko harbor in the north coast of New Georgia island. Bairoko is the supply base for Munda. Allied warplanes also pounded seven other Japanese bases in the arc of islands above Australia, and in a single battle over Madang, New Guinea, out-numbered United

Labor Board Powers May Be Given Test

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, July 22.—(P)—A contract between the United Mine Workers (UMW) and Illinois bituminous coal operators, possibly a wedge for final settlement of the prolonged coal controversy, offered the War Labor Board (WLB) today its first opportunity to test its new powers of subpoena. Providing for a 48-hour week and wage increases of about $3 a day for 35,000 union employees of the Illinois Coal Operators Association, the agreement is contingent on WLB approval and an OPA authorization for increases in coal prices to offset the higher production costs. There was no indication how the contract would be received by the WLB, which previously had rejected a similar (non-productive travel time) pay for miners. The recently-enacted Smith-Connally law contains a clause authorizing the board to issue subpoenas for witnesses. The joint announcement by UMW District 12 and the Illinois operators stated that the operators had sent to the WLB a signed copy of the new contract. It did not carry Lewis' signature.

Record Money Raiser Uncle Sam Sets Out to Break Mark

Washington, July 22.—(P)—Digging deeper than ever into the pockets of the average citizen, Uncle Sam will set out in September to break his own world's record for financing war. Starting September 9, the nation's Third War Loan drive will seek to raise $15,000,000,000—and, if previous records are any criterion, the response will go far beyond that goal.

Washington, July 22.—(P)—The army, seeking poultry which it has been unable to buy at price ceilings, and the Office of Price Administration (OPA), striving to break up black market operations in the Delmarva area, the east's largest producer, watched the highways today ready to requisition any supplies that showed up. The first requisition was made yesterday near Dover, Del., where state police, accompanied by OPA inspectors, stopped poultry trucks. The army, which made the actual requisition, received its authority from the War Food Administration, acting under the second war powers act.

Democrats In Control In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, July 22.—(P)—The Democratic party controlled the election machinery today in traditionally Republican Philadelphia. A change of political allegiance by County Commissioner James C. Clark gave the Democrats authority over appointment of voting machine inspectors and other aspects of the fall election, in which William C. Bullitt and acting Mayor Bernard Samuel are the Democratic and Republican candidates respectively for the Philadelphia mayoralty, chief municipal post at stake in Pennsylvania. Clark, a Republican for 35 years and a ward leader 14 years, said when he enrolled under the Democratic emblem yesterday that he acted to help bring about "a change in the leadership of the Republican party in this city."

David W. Harris, Republican city chairman and state secretary of revenue, immediately labelled Clark "a Benedict Arnold to his party." Clark, who for several months has been in cooperation with the Democratic commissioner, John J. Hennessey, is expected to receive support of the Democratic city organization for re-election in November. The Republican organization early this week endorsed Sheriff David E. Watson for the post.

Washington, July 22.—(P)—The navy announced today the American submarine Triton, bold raider of Japanese shipping, "must be presumed to be lost" on a war patrol. The Triton, which had destroyed more than a dozen enemy warships and merchantmen, was commanded by Lieutenant Commander George Kenneth MacKenzie, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y. The vessel carried a normal complement of about 60 men. It was the tenth United States undersea boat to be lost in this war, including eight lost as a result of combat in the Pacific and two as a result of non-combat incidents in the Atlantic.

U. S. Beats Axis to Punch on Rome Bombing Propaganda In Historic World Broadcast

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, July 22.—(P)—The United Nations beat the propaganda-minded Axis to the punch by telling the world about the Rome bombing eight minutes after the first explosives fell on the capital of Fascist Italy. Details of how this was accomplished came out today, emphasizing how such generals as Dwight D. Eisenhower have added the propaganda weapon to the plane, tank and shell in the global conflict. Recognizing the high importance of getting out first with the Allied story of the raid, the army made minute arrangements which went off without a hitch.

Appointments Announced By Gov. Martin

Number of Vacancies on Turnpike and Game Commission Are Filled

LEFFLER IS RETAINED

Harrisburg, July 22.—(P)—Governor Martin today appointed two members of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and four members of the state game commission. The appointments: Turnpike commission—Edward Noel Jones, York county, succeeding Frank Bebout, of Monongahela, deceased, and James J. Coyne, of Pittsburgh, succeeding Charles T. Carpenter, of Glenmora, deceased. The posts pay $5,000. Game commission—Ross L. Leffler, of McKeesport, re-appointed until 1951; Dr. H. E. Kilgus, Brookway, Jefferson county, until 1951, succeeding A. J. Hanes, of St. Marys, whose term expired; G. L. Phillips, Huntingdon county, until 1947, succeeding S. Harold Fisher, of Huntingdon, whose term expired, and Harold Moltz, of Williamsport, until 1945, succeeding Dr. C. E. Phillips, of Sunbury, whose term expired. Game commissioners draw no salary but are paid their expenses.

The governor announced at the same time that on September 1, he would appoint James F. Parrance, of Export, Westmoreland county, former Republican state chairman, as a member of the Turnpike commission, succeeding Chairman Walter A. Jones, who has resigned effective that date. Thomas J. Evans, of Schuylkill county, and present member of the commission, will probably succeed Jones as chairman, the governor asserted. Martin said he would fill two other vacancies on the game commission in the near future, to succeed O. Ben Gipple, of Harrisburg, and Ernest Harwood, Luzerne county, whose commissions expired at the end of the 1943 legislative session.

Also members of the game commission are Robert L. Landrum, of Franklin, and Col. Nicholas Hiddle, of Jenkintown, now in the military service. Edward N. Jones, named to the Turnpike commission for eight years, is a Democrat and served for a period as secretary of labor and industry under former Governor George H. Earle.

Ross Charges Juggling of State Funds

Harrisburg, July 22.—(P)—Governor Martin today reiterated expectation that the commonwealth will have a $25,000,000 surplus at the end of the 1943-45 fiscal period and said he hoped the legislature will use the money to reduce the state's $119,000,000 debt. The executive made the statement at a press conference in commenting on a request by State Senator Harry Shapiro (D-Phila.) that the state's present surplus of $18,000,000 be placed in a sinking fund for that purpose.

Chief of OWI Is In London

London, July 22.—(P)—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, will arrive today to visit the OWI's branch office here, hinted that the propaganda line for the next stage of the Allied offensive already was well in mind but declined to give details. He mentioned the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration to the Italians to surrender honorably or suffer the consequences as "an example of what is being done" toward a joint British-American propaganda program. The OWI director said he intended to confer with Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, and other British as well as American officials. He said he might go on to Africa before returning to the United States.

FURY OF RED OFFENSIVE IS INCREASING

Three - Pronged Attack Threatens to Outflank Vital City of Orel

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY

London, July 22.—(P)—The Russians have launched a strong attack near Leningrad and heavy fighting has been raging since dawn, the German radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

Moscow, July 22.—(P)—German reinforcements, rushed into the Orel breaches by forced marches, counter-attacked viciously in desperate efforts to halt the Russian onslaught yesterday, but were smashed back as the Soviet offensive rolled on to within nine miles of the German stronghold, the Russians announced officially today.

In a battle of increasing violence which raged 200 miles south of Moscow, the Russians said they beat through masses of enemy tanks and infantry for gains of four to nine miles and overran 90 villages. (The London radio said that Hitler had ordered Orel, hinge of the entire Nazi south-central defense line, held "at all costs.") The three-pronged Russian drive which threatened to outflank the city of 110,000 from the north and south and menaced it from the east, held these positions:

Driving from the north, the Russians had reached Bulky, about 40 miles west of the city and within five miles of the crucial Orel-Bryansk railway at a point 35 miles northeast of Bryansk. Another column from the north had topped Oputkina, nine miles north-east of Orel on the railway from fallen Mtsensk. Soviet forces smashing frontally from the east had driven into Zolotarevo, 11 miles away. The southern advance on the city was meeting the toughest German opposition and a Soviet communiqué said only that the Russians "continued to forge ahead." That column was last reported west of Malo at a point about 30 miles south of Orel.

In yesterday's severe battles the Russians said they knocked out more than 77 tanks and 131 Nazi planes in the Orel sector alone, and announced that the day's fighting, which raged as far south as the Donets river basin, had taken a toll of 5,800 Germans. Yesterday's Nazi losses brought the totals as announced by the Russians since July 5 to 3,392 tanks and 2,342 planes destroyed and more than 75,000 Germans slain.

STAR ATHLETE KILLED

Uniontown, July 22.—(P)—Flight Officer Richard W. A. Flenniken, 28, of Uniontown, killed yesterday in a plane crash near Louisville, Ky., was a star athlete at Uniontown high school and later a member of the Pennsylvania State College team. Flenniken set several Fayette county track records while on the high school team here, including the 440-yard mark which still stands. He also played on the football team.

Strike Ties Up Coast City

Los Angeles, July 22.—(P)—Cars and buses of the Los Angeles Railway Co., which carry 1,000,000 persons to and from work daily, ceased operating at 3 a. m. today because of an operators' work stoppage. Thousands of workers stood on street corners awaiting the cars that were marshalled in crowds in the direction of their jobs. Aircraft plants sent out trucks and trailers equipped with makeshift seats to round up their workers. Radio appeals urged motorists to fill their cars with work workers. Those who depend on the Los Angeles company for transportation will be inconvenienced only for 24 hours, D. D. McHugh, local president of the AFL-Ukr. order of Drivers and Motormen, said. The 3,000 workers voted the 24-hour stoppage in protest of a War Labor Board's refusal to approve a 10-cent an hour increase. Their present scale ranges from $8 to 90 cents.

BIRTHS

AT MATERNITY
Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Lindell, of Youngville, are the parents of a son born Wednesday afternoon.

Butter and Poultry Prices Are Fixed for the District

Prices for butter and poultry sold in this district are now fixed by the OPA Erie office. They are effective permanently or until further notice.

Butter prices vary slightly depending upon three things: the score (meaning the fat or moisture content), the way it is packaged, and the class of store selling it. Most butter sold in this section is 32 and 90 score. The price for this butter is now set at 49c a pound, in class 1 and 2 stores, and 46c lb. in class 3 and 4 stores. When wrapped in quarter-pound packages, butter sells at 51c and 48c lb. The 89 score butter now retails at 48c and 45c lb. package, or 50c and 47c for quarter-pound separate wrappings.

Poultry prices are the same for all four classes of stores.

The price per pound for "Dressed" poultry, including head and feet, are:

Roasters, lb. 44c; broilers, fryers, 44c; fowl, 39c; capons (to 6 lb.), 56c.

"Quick-frozen" or "eviscerated" poultry is completely drawn, oven ready or cut, prepared under federal supervision. Prices for frozen poultry in class 1 and 2 stores, broilers, lb. 70c; roasters, 66c; fowl, 59c; capons (to 6 pounds), 66c. Class 3 and 4 stores, broilers, 69c; roasters, 65c; fowl, 59c and capons 65c pound.

A retailer must post in his store in clear and legible printing or writing his maximum ceiling prices for any item which he offers for sale, and must, if asked, give the purchaser a receipt.

Any person or merchant wishing more information concerning these prices, or any prices fixed by the OPA, call Mrs. Karen Wilkins, Warren Ration Board, phone, 3077. Ceiling prices for eggs will be published July 24th.

John O. Hanna Announces As Co. Commissioner Candidate

John O. Hanna, well known business man of the city today announced that he is a candidate for county commissioner subject to the decision of the Democratic voters at the primary to be held, September 14. His announcement appears in another column in this issue of the Times-Mirror.

Mr. Hanna, one of the largest real estate owners in the borough and also the owner of considerable property in the vicinity of Russell through his early training and his business life is well qualified for the office and stated this morning that if elected the desires of the people of Warren county would be paramount in his consideration. A hard headed business man, Mr. Hanna knows of business problems and is alive to affairs so that he would bring to the office ability and experience in the transaction of large problems.

Born in Pine Grove township he was reared there and received his early schooling in the Pine Grove township schools. After his school life he spent some years on the farm of his father and learned of the problems of agriculturists and of the needs of the rural residents.

With the alarms of the World War he responded to services with the United States forces and after six months at Camp Lee crossed to France with the famous Rainbow Division, the fighting 80th. He saw hard service being quartered for a time with British forces and battling in the Somme sector and all through the Meuse-Argonne campaign where some of the hardest fighting of the war took place. Attached to the intelligence service Mr. Hanna was in the van of all battles and his intelligence squads were many times almost annihilated. When the Armistice came he was in the front line trenches. Always alert to the needs of the service men he is a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Alive at all times to the betterment of the borough and county Mr. Hanna has taken a forward part in all movements looking to a bigger and better Warren county and has been a key man in all campaigns conducted by the Red Cross, Community Chest and other agencies.

For seven years he was affiliated with the Kappeler Real Estate Agency and for the past 16 years with the C. C. Smith Company, of which he is now manager. He has acquired some large holdings of real estate which will give him an insight into the tax payers problem.

Married and the father of three children his interest in the moral status of the city and county has been great and if chosen as the Democratic candidate for Commissioner he will undoubtedly give the people of the county a government that is business-like and free of favoritism.

Convention At Pittsburgh Was Success

County Commissioners P. C. Ostergard, George Scavy and William Olney with County Solicitor Alexander Flick and Commissioner Clerk Donald Schuler and Judge Allison Wade returned last evening from Pittsburgh where they attended the state convention of commissioners.

All were enthusiastic over the value of the convention which was one of the largest ever held. This was due to the many new laws passed by the recent session of the state legislature particularly those relating to tax liens and assessment methods. There were over 400 at the banquet served at the William Penn Hotel.

The program was an excellent one with Governor Edward Martin; Sec. of Welfare Miss O'Hara; Secretary of Highways Schroyer and Dr. Ralph Hutchison, chairman of the Pennsylvania Council of Defense as speakers. The legislative committee of the Association also presented some informative addresses on new laws.

The commissioners were all guests at a baseball game Tuesday night when the Pittsburgh team defeated Philadelphia making the trip to and from the baseball park on chartered street cars.

A highlight of the convention as far as Warren county was concerned was the election of Donald Schuler, of Warren county, as secretary of the State Association. There were two candidates and Mr. Schuler was given a splendid vote.

People are getting to the resort in some manner and according to announcements made there are only 100 fewer persons on the grounds than last year at this time.

McCullough, Charles Camp and H. A. Ludwick.

IMPORTANT BROADCAST
Announcement was made at the Chamber of Commerce this morning that on Saturday, from 10:45 to 11:00 p. m., President Eric A. Johnston of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will broadcast over the Columbia System an American business progress report in a talk entitled "Message to Investors." This address is so important that it will be translated into several foreign languages and shortwaved to Axis and Axis-occupied territory to counteract enemy propaganda.

PATIENT IS BACK
An escaped patient of the North Warren State Hospital has been returned to the institution after enjoying some days of liberty. He was found near South Valley, Cataraugus county, N. Y., by Troop or Broughton of the New York state police. Apprehension of the man cleared up a series of small burglaries in the vicinity during which a number of cottages were robbed of a rifle, clothing, food, etc. The Trooper found the fellow camped in a small clearing with the rifle close by, evidently planning to resist capture.

AGED MAN MISSING
John McCaskey, 77 year old father of the Rev. Chester McCaskey, former pastor of the Sugar Grove Methodist church is still missing after having wandered away from his home at Fisher last Tuesday. He suffered a stroke on the Sunday previous and when he wandered away was not in a condition to go far. Hundreds have searched for the aged man but as yet no clue has been found as to his whereabouts. His description has been broadcast on the state police teletype system and the state police are aiding in the search.

WORKING EIGHT HOURS
The machinists' school that has been operated 24 hours per day for some months past in the South street school building is now working only eight hours per day, training men employed in non-essential work. Most of the schools over the state have been closed down due to the fact that workers untrained are finding employment at good wages and few are desirous of spending eight weeks in training. Many men in Warren and vicinity, however, are anxious to improve their skills and to that end have enrolled for the course.

GOING TO CAMP
Warren's Pennsylvania State Guard will leave for camp at Indiantown Gap on Friday, July 20. It will be the first camp of the new guardsmen and they will return with much of value to them in their work. The local guardsmen will leave on a special train, on which will be the men from Erie, Franklin, Oil City, Corry and Meadville. The Warren guardsmen will be picked up here and at Kane and Bradford outfits will be en train. A portion of the camp at Indiantown Gap has been set aside for the state guard and they will derive much benefit from association with the U. S. Army men in camp being trained.

TOOTH SHARPENING
The four sharp incisors of the beaver are of the utmost importance in this animal's battle for life. Each tooth is so arranged that it meets the tooth of the opposite jaw, and thus is kept ground like an axe edge.

Oil Tank Hit By Lightning Is Destroyed

At the height of the storm last evening shortly after 8 o'clock lightning hit and set ablaze a small wooden oil tank in a frame tank house on East Fifth avenue. The tank was just at the borough line and for a time it blazed brightly. The emergency truck from the Central station responded to the call and shortly after arriving at the blaze Chief Kropf called out the men of Engine Company No. 2 and the pump on their truck was put to work. Oil from the tank had spilled down a small ravine toward a sewer and it burned briskly until drowned out. John Swick and the loss was not heavy. At 5:15 yesterday afternoon the firemen were called to extinguish a fire in a rubbish pile at the rear of the Warren Transfer garage and storage houses on Madison avenue. The fire was quickly extinguished and there was no damage done.

Local Man Now Captain In U. S. Army

Official word has been received here that Joseph L. Scheerer, who was just recently graduated from tank destroyer school at Camp Hood, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of captain and returned to Camp Maxey, in the same state, where, in addition to his duties as commanding officer of the anti-tank company, he is in charge of all instruction in mechanized attack.

Captain Scheerer joined Company I, 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, on March 16, 1933, and was inducted into the regular army ranks on February 21, 1941. Later he attended officer candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga., and was commissioned a second lieutenant there on July 1, 1942. On November 9 he was made a first lieutenant and second in command of the Camp Maxey anti-tank outfit.

The officer has just returned to Texas after a short furlough at home with his wife, Marjorie Woodruff Scheerer, and small baby in Pleasant township.

Turin is second to Milan as an Italian rail center.

BUS LINE HEARING

At the Clarion county court house Tuesday, July 27, a hearing will be held by a public utility commissioner on the application of Albert G. Sidon for a bus line between Titusville and Tionesta and Tidioute. The object is to carry workers from the Tidioute and Tionesta sections to Titusville.

EARLY GLADIOLI

Along with the many victory gardeners in Warren county, those who customarily raise flowers are not neglecting these as is evidenced by a beautiful early bloom of gladioli shown in the Warren National Bank this week. The attractive purple bloom is from the garden of W. H. Kaltenbach on the Warren-Jamestown road.

PICNIC A SUCCESS

The annual picnic of the Veterans Club held yesterday in Yeagle's Grove was a success in every sense of the word although the rain during the evening rang down the curtain on the festivities. Nearly 500 were in attendance and at 5 o'clock about 400 were served with a picnic dinner that was highly enjoyable. Games and other pastimes helped to pass the afternoon and early evening in an enjoyable manner but the rain storm about 8 o'clock caused the crowd to retreat in short order.

ABSENTEEISM HERE

Absenteeism is mounting in the shops of this city and it is becoming more and more of a problem as the Allied armies secure small victories preliminary to the big push. At a meeting of the district employment managers held in Oil City last Monday, the matter was up for discussion and it is expected that soon each office will give out its absentee reports from their groups of shops each month. In this connection it is interesting to note that in a group of Warren plants $60,000 was lost in wages to employees last month by absences of workers for various causes. The

Just SCRAPS

Down at No. 7 Fourth avenue, a gentleman's face has been growing redder and redder with each passing day. Also his name seems to be changing for his neighbors now salute him with "Hi, Douglas!" or "Hi, Dwight!" instead of "Hi, Wylie!" The bouquets have been arriving so fast lately that the odor of No. 7 (not Downing street) has become like that of a florist's.

Most Warrenites read the story in Monday's Times-Mirror which reprinted in full a Bulletin issued by Colley S. Baker, state salvage chairman, to all the county chairmen in the state. Mr. Colley spoke of Warren county as "a Utopian salvage county." He said that "Warren county is doing the best all-around salvage job in Pennsylvania." Since Pennsylvania is leading the nation in many phases of salvage work, it appears that we hill-billies have some little title to be proud of. He referred to Chairman Wylie Corbett as "of the type of General MacArthur and General Eisenhower."

And that's not all. Chairman Allen Gibson of the Warren County Council of Defense recently received a letter of congratulation from Mrs. Worthington Scranton, commander of war services on the work of the salvage committee. And Chairman Corbett received a letter from the Vulcan Detinning Co., which processes tin cans, congratulating him on the recent shipment of cans and stating that "extraneous materials were held to 2%," a remarkable figure.

Our old friend Napoleon remarked: "In war men are nothing. The man is everything." However, Mr. Corbett, being a modest man, does not wholly agree with this thesis. He thinks that the triumph in our county has been achieved not by the work of any one man, but by the patriotic cooperation of committee chairmen, processors, and the public itself. He pays particular tribute to the work of the chairmen of other communities in the county, who are as follows:

Bear Lake—Arnell Carter.
Clarendon—Gilbert Nelson.
Columbus—D. P. Trisket.
Corydon—J. C. Pascarella.
East Branch—Frank D. Lay.
Grand Valley and Enterprise—Da Kinzua—C. R. Morrison.
Lottsville—T. S. Baker.
North Warren—Chris Pepke.
Russell and Akeley—J. W. Moll.
Saeffeld, Barnes and Tiona—Donald P. Brooks.
Tidioute—George B. King.
Youngsville, Garland and Irvine—Elton D. Baris.
Pleasant Township—Glenn Kiser.

"Many of these men," says Corbett, "have been in the salvage work since its inception under the first chairman, Mr. Knabenshue. Then there's the Warren borough committee, consisting of Byron Knapp, Paul W. Arnold, Melvin G. Keller, Al. Albaugh, O. C. Tritt and W. H. Wright, and the oil field salvage committee under John Cochran, of Sheffield. These are the men who are helping to put Warren county right up at the top in the war salvage effort."

"But cooperation has gone much farther than the directive workers," he goes on. "Our county's success has been the handiwork of hundreds, indeed thousands, of people: the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Warren Times-Mirror, papers in Sheffield, Youngsville and Tidioute, the stores, which have helped with window displays and special drives. There have been those who supplied trucks; Youngsville borough, Warren borough, State Hospital. There have been the processors, such as the Moll Hide Co., of Russell, and the many junk dealers."

"As a matter of fact, there is hardly a man, woman or child in Warren county who has not had some part in our salvage success. We have a right to be proud of our collective and individual effort."

But the work must go steadily forward, Corbett says. We must continue to save every ounce of scrap metal, brass, copper, bronze, nickel, tin cans, waste fats and paper.

Campbell Once More In The Army

Emerson Campbell, former Warren county man, whose escapades in the Army have caused the military authorities much labor and expense is headed back again for an army camp. Campbell was picked up in Warren some weeks ago at a local tap room as a deserter by Lieut. M. Evan, of the local police force. Military authorities were notified and came to Warren for him taking him to Pittsburgh.

With a group of other deserters Campbell was on a train on his way back to a military camp when he leaped from the train near Connellsville and disappeared into the woods. Despite diligent search in the vicinity Campbell made a getaway.

State police here got a tip that the fellow was at the home of his father, who formerly resided in Warren but who moved to a farm near Pleasantville some time ago. Authorities in that vicinity also received the tip and Patrolman Ed. Alderman, of Titusville and Constable Theodore Reagle, a Hyde-town officer arrested the fellow. He claimed that he did not leap from the train but that his guard went asleep and he walked from the train unobserved.

Campbell while held at Titusville was questioned about a number of rubber checks he circulated and also relative to a gold watch and chain he stole and he admitted all of the charges. However military police came for the fellow and he was taken to Pittsburgh. From that point he will be returned to a military camp and will be dealt with under Army Regulations.

loss to the war production is heavy and methods of combatting the loss of time and wages are being considered.

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

Chapter 11

"WHO was he?" I hammered at so beautiful silence. She didn't seem to hear me. She was looking at me and when she answered, I could hardly hear her.

"I can't tell you," she said.

I beckoned to the waiter and ordered more martinis. I took one of her cigarettes and she lit it for me while I thought: Sailor Beware. After all her stubborn protests of innocence, this sudden burst of revelations were marked: Contents Dangerous as far as I was concerned. "Why do you think your father's in hiding?"

"I've told you. He has many enemies."

"Such as the Gestapo?"

She gasped. "You're really serious."

"When you were questioned weren't you told of the Gestapo? Your father, to the best of our knowledge, has been collecting money from the Gestapo. Don't interrupt me, please. Let me finish. His life is in extreme danger."

"I don't believe you! If that were so, dad would give himself up!"

It's not so simple. First of all, he has kept his discovery secret for many months. Besides he has been aiding and abetting the enemy!

"No, no!"

"He knows that he will have to stand trial for treason if he surrenders himself."

"No! No! It's the penitentiary. Not a treason trial. It's another of dad's shady business deals."

I DRANK another Martini. I realized suddenly why Sam Taggard had come to Mexico City. To negotiate with the Gestapo go-betweens, the trusted go-betweens. And Sam Taggard trusted no one—except his daughter. Was she the go-between, I wondered.

Why not? This visit to Chevalle must be part of the negotiations. But why should she invite me along? For one thing, she knew that she was being watched anyway. By inviting me along she was executing a bold maneuver, and bold maneuvers had proven successful before as other traitors and fifth columnists had demonstrated. I was as close to hatred that minute as I could get with her.

"How tall is your father?" I asked.

"He's not tall. About five six."

"This tall with the height of the murdered man. How old is he?"

"A little over fifty."

"What are the color of his eyes?"

"Brown."

There was no use continuing. She had given me a fairly circumstantial description of the corpse.

"Why did you ask me that?"

"I think I met someone yesterday answering that description."

"It's a big city."

"No so many Americans here now."

I can think of several Americans I know who are medium-sized like dad, and middle-aged, and on the dark side."

I WANTED to retort that the Gestapo was not in the habit of indiscriminate kidnappings. I said, "You can't. Are any of these doubles, associates or former associates of your father?"

"Let me think. There was one man who looked like dad who used to come to our house, but it was so long ago, I can't remember his name."

"Can you remember the name of the man who came to you in Acapulco?"

"I can't tell you. Oh, what difference does it make?"

"What was his name?"

guard, dead. Hernandez then was a Mirtillo-and-Johnson man, bought by Gestapo cash, by the same cash that had bought up other traitors and agents in a score of nations.

Hernando had been sufficiently trusted by Sam Taggard to bring a message to his daughter, sufficiently trusted to betray Taggard. I felt no joy in this bit of knowledge. I felt hopeless for with Sam Taggard dead, the missing location maps seemed more elusive than ever.

A pang ripped through me. I felt certain now that the Gestapo had the maps after all and had deliberately pretended failure. My escape had been a deliberately planned one; escape made easy on the sucker installment plan. I thought bitterly. It would suit them to have us think that the location was not in their possession.

It would suit them fine if they had the location, to have us continue hunting like mad for it, using up time, energy and money.

THEIR formula called for Taggard's murder and my release. I poured myself some coffee and smiled at Taggard's daughter. I remembered that she had lived in Latin America most of her life and that she was the daughter of an unscrupulous man. For all I knew, she was a Gestapo agent, the daughter of a Gestapo agent murdered for his blackmail attempts.

The Gestapo, of course, would not send her a death notice. They would more likely send her condolences or suppress the fact of her father's murder if they thought that she could still be useful. But one thing was definite. She didn't know that her father was dead. I thought of how she had acted towards me prior to the Mirtillo visit. Somebody had instructed her to change from the keep-your distance role to this all-out-charm-him-at-any-cost role. Why? The answer was obvious.

We left the restaurant and I signaled a cab. As I followed her into the cab I was glad that I had the 38.

LONG AND PAINFUL WAR

(By DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press War Analyst)

It certainly gives one a grateful feeling of security to hear Vice-Admiral Frederick Horne, vice-chief of naval operations, say the navy is planning for a Pacific war "that will last at least until 1949," but it's equally good to note that he doesn't specifically state he believes the conflict necessarily will run that long.

Six more years might not mean much to a tortoise which has an expectancy of 200 years of life. But it's an awfully long time to the average citizen who is looking forward to the day when he can take his car out of storage and drive into the countryside for a steak smothered with onions.

When James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization, was asked about the admiral's statement he replied: "If anyone else is planning on that basis, I do not know that they are." T. V. Soong, China's astute foreign minister who is now in Washington, remarked that it's "anybody's guess" how long the fight with Japan will last—and that seems to be a fair assay of the situation.

One thing we're sure of is that whatever the duration of the war, it will be plenty long and painful. Its length and bloodshed and privations will depend mainly on civilian efforts in producing sinews of victory. We must neither allow ourselves to grow slack because of overconfidence, nor become despondent—and therefore inefficient—for fear of a long war.

Unfortunately the amount of striking power the Allies could turn against Japan has been largely dependent on the demands of the European conflict. However, things are looking decidedly brighter in the Pacific as our industrial efforts begin to pyramid. It's encouraging—though surely nothing to cause complacency to see the United Nations go on the offensive against the Mikado's forces at the same time as the Allies launch their "beginning of the end" drives in Europe.

As witness to our progress we have yesterday's great Allied air raid on Bairoko harbor, New Georgia, when 150 bombers dumped 133 tons of grief on the Japs. This was a companion piece to last Saturday's huge aerial attack by 192 of our warplanes on Kahili, Japan's key base in the Solomons, when nine enemy ships, including a cruiser and three destroyers were sunk.

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

If it's a high-paying job that milady's looking for, the medical profession is the best bet and New Mexico is the spot to set up business.

So says the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which surveyed the feminine employment field and found women physicians on top followed, in the professional fields, by lawyers, accountants and librarians.

Teachers, for the most part, struggle along in the lowest income brackets, the Federation is quoted in an Associated Press dispatch, as reporting.

In clerical jobs, secretaries lead, but stenographers and bookkeepers are fairly close in earning power.

Of 227 doctors, surgeons and osteopaths covered in the survey, 37 reported $5,000 to $10,000 yearly incomes. Eight said they made more than $10,000.

The average physician's pay is $2,835.50 as against $1,547.50 for the entire professional group and $1,408 for business and professional women combined.

More than half of the school teachers reporting draw less than $1,500 a year.

Out of more than 2,000 secretaries, seven are in the $5,000 to $10,000 bracket and two earn more than that.

SNOOPER ARMY

The American Automobile Association protests that OPA Administrator Brown is organizing a 180,000-man "snooper army" to check on gasoline ration documents. Side by side with this story one newspaper juxtaposes the headline "Motorists Flock to Beaches Again—Resort Parking Lots Crowded in Advance of Promised End to Driving Ban."

Almost the first act of Administrator Brown was to try out the honor system with motorists. It failed dismally. There would seem to be no way of enforcing except to enforce. Why, then, should OPA investigators, U. S. enforcement agents and local policing staffs not co-operate in seeing that gasoline is used first to win the war, before it is wasted on pleasure driving? That is not snooping.

An article in this issue reminds men in the next Selective Service contingents to return cards inviting them to the Pre-Induction meeting and party to be held at the YM next Monday evening. Come on, boys, let's have a little action.

If you don't get everything you think is coming to you, maybe you should be glad.

"It's a Topsy-Turvy World, Eh, Adolf?"

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There has been a lot of talk around here about how much political pulse-feeling the Democratic members of Congress are going to do on their vacations, but it's my guess the Republican members will do a lot more.

There isn't a politician worth the name who doesn't realize that the Republican national convention next summer is going to be a "favorite son" convention—and doesn't know that such conventions are the ones filled with dynamite.

Let me quote a former chairman of the national Democratic committee, who no longer is a front man in the political arena but still must remain nameless.

"Dewey and MacArthur (that's Governor Tom of New York and 'that man' in the Pacific war theatre) seem to be the logical Republican possibilities. They are going to prevent Mr. Willie from capturing the nomination."

But the favorite son prospects now indicate there is a strong probability of a convention deadlock and the opponents of Mr. Wendell Willkie will have to be very alert to find enough favorite-son parking spaces if they are going to prevent Mr. Willkie from capturing the nomination.

THAT is an interesting long-range observation for several reasons, but mainly because it's an "opposition" party conclusion that if Dewey is as reluctant to run as he insists he is, the Republican mean "Old Guard" and middle-of-the-roads may have to concentrate on MacArthur if they have any serious intentions of defeating Willkie in convention and capturing the seat in the White House in November, 1944.

MacArthur not only hasn't given the slightest nod to any of his backers but he has publicly disavowed all interest in national politics. Intimates who have been in contact with him recently say he's now a man with one burning passion: to vindicate his whole military career by recapturing the islands he and his men were driven out of and to spearhead the attack on the nation that drove them into the seas off Zaitan and Corregidor.

These intimates are confident that even if he were nominated, MacArthur would refuse the nomination. That is a point that the "MacArthur-for-President" club in Illinois (where they insist they will put him on the primary ticket for president, with or without his permission) would do well to explore.

UNDER the present Army ruling, if MacArthur were named in convention, he would have to abandon his command to accept the nomination. He would have to resign from the Army, return to civilian life, and give up the very things he now is seeking so strenuously to achieve.

The President, as his commander in chief, probably would exempt him from the order, as a gesture of courtesy toward the prospect. That is a point that wouldn't change MacArthur's obligation to what friends say now is his sole ambition.

HOLLYWOOD — As if to compensate this year's wartime stay-at-home vacationers who wouldn't think of going near a railroad ticket office, there's quite a spot of railroading coming to the screen. And some of it is pre-war style.

Foreword to Deanna Durbin's "His Butler's Sister" sets forth: "The foods, drinks, clothes, shoes, rubber, gas and other articles consumed or used in this picture are purely imaginary and have no relation to any actual foods, drinks, clothes, shoes, rubber, gas and other articles of today, rationed or otherwise. Any resemblance is purely accidental. This is a fable of the day before yesterday."

The "other articles" include, besides butler Pat O'Brien of the title and four or five other specimens of the vanished species known as domestic help, several thousand miles of first-class railroad travel. In a luxury train, too.

Miss Durbin spent a week shuttling back and forth over nearly a mile of track, covering her trip from Centerville, Ind., to New York City. Her track system covers all available floor space inside the studio's big "Phantom of the Opera" stage, and has spurs extending through the doorway. One incident of her trip could have happened only in other days—she meets a girle salesman.

ON NEARBY Stage 22, Allan Jones and Evelyn Ankers were set for three or four weeks of choo-chooing while making "You're a Lucky Fellow, Mr. Smith." Most of the romance—even the marriage in the end—is set aboard the milk route special. Deanna's movie trip may remind you of days gone by, the Jones-Ankers excursion will give a peek into what today's travel will be like, if you're silly enough to try it. Jones plays Private Tony Smith, U. S. Army.

Both Deanna's streamliner tracks and the Jones-Ankers local line are used for "Honeycomb Lodge," in which David Bruce, Harriet Hilliard and June Vincent are involved. Here the scenarists took advantage of the current shortage of redeeps to make boy meet girl.

Boarding a train together, Bruce and Miss Hilliard meet when he takes the place of a missing redeap and helps with her bags. The complication develops when they are mistaken for honeymooners—while at their destination is waiting his real bride, Miss Vincent.

STAGE 8 is a railroad station scene. The sound of a whistle is floating back, betokening departure of Donald O'Connor's dad, Richard Dix, for the wars. Left behind, looking sad, is his mother, Lillian Gish, and beside her is Donald, looking as if he's just beginning to realize his responsibilities as the new "Man of the Family."

But there's still more railroading if you look for it. Over on "Frontier Bad Men" Robert Paige, Noah Beery Jr., and Andy Devine, just up from Texas with a herd of cattle, gaze in fascination at an "iron horse" they never saw before. The scene shows the newly laid tracks in Abilene, Kas., in 1889—when "modern travel" was more full of discomforts than it is today.

Buccaneers Have Chance To Move Into Second Place In Four-Game Series This Week

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The housecleaning of the Brooklyn Dodgers may have made them as neat as a pin, but not nearly as sharp.

Even before their rebellion they had practically no chance of capturing the National League pennant from the St. Louis Cardinals, but now they look as though they'd have trouble finishing second or third.

Their immediate danger looms from the Pittsburgh Pirates, who may yet get revenge for the 23-6 trouncing that the Dodgers administered the day of the revolt in Brooklyn.

The Pirates are the hottest thing in the senior circuit at the moment and have won six of their last seven games, including four out of five from the Cardinals. Yesterday the Buccaneers battered the faltering Phillies 10-2 with Bob Klinger pitching five-hit ball and Pete Coscarart and Maurice Van Robays leading a 14-hit attack.

This shaved their distance behind the Dodgers to a mere three games and gave them a chance to move up this week-end when Brooklyn comes to Pittsburgh for a four-game series.

The Dodgers divided a doubleheader with Cincinnati and were hardly impressive in either game. They were smothered 11-1 in the opener as Elmer Riddle annexed his 12th victory and they stumbled to a 9-7 decision in the nightcap with the help of fielding lapses by the Reds. Three times when the Dodgers sacrificed the Reds tried to catch the leading runner and failed and two errors also figured in Brooklyn's scoring.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, lengthened their margin on top of the Dodgers to 4½ games by sweeping a double bill from the New York Giants 3-1 and 14-6. The Redbirds were held to three hits in the opener, but made all of them count for runs, while Rookie George Munger, drawing his first starting assignment of the season, kept nine hits well spaced. In the second game the champions made up for their earlier hitting deficiency with 19 solid blows and salted the game away with nine runs in the fifth inning. Stan Musial topped the barrage with five hits and four runs batted in.

In the other National League game Hiram Bithorn, the Puerto Rican right-hander, bagged his 11th triumph and seventh in eight decisions as the Chicago Cubs beat the Boston Braves 4-1.

The St. Louis Browns, who lost an entire series to the New York Yankees recently in the west, gain-

Bucky Harris Not Worried About Phils

Pittsburgh, July 22—(P)—Soft-spoken Bucky Harris says he isn't getting any gray hairs over the slump which has pulled the Phillies down from fourth to seventh place in a month's time.

The Phils' defeat at the hands of the Pirates yesterday was their 22nd in their last 30 games.

"We were going good for a while because some of the boys were playing sensational ball both in the field and at bat," said Bucky. "Some of them were playing over their heads and, naturally, they had to hit an even keel sometime. When they did, our stride began to taper off, and we didn't win as many games."

The fact that Bucky isn't worried about not winning doesn't mean that he doesn't want his team to come in first.

"We are trying to build for the future," he declared, "and I believe in time we'll have a pretty good ball club. The loss of St. Johnson to the army hurt a bit, but you have to expect those things these days."

Even when his team was the sensation of the league early in the season, Bucky says, he didn't have any illusions. A team that has been doing submarine duty the last five years isn't going to surface all at once, he philosophizes.

Big Guns of Golf Firing Mighty Shots

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY

Chicago, July 22—(P)—The big guns of golf fired their mightiest shots over the Tam O'Shanter meadows today to start the $10,000 All-American open tournament, major event of the dazzling three-ring golfing circus which winds up Sunday.

Sixteen of the nation's best women players also started on the first round of a 72 hole medal play tournament, while 16 of the surviving male amateurs advanced through the third and quarter final rounds.

A field of 200, professionals and amateurs, were in the force attacking the all American open for the year's richest golf prize. Among them were such distinguished shooters as Byron Nelson of Toledo, who has won the two previous Tam O'Shanter opens; Sgt. Clayton Haefner of the army; Jimmy Demaret; Walter Hagen, 53 year old Chick Evans; Jim Ferrier; Lloyd Mangrum; Chuck Harbert and Orval White of Winston-Salem, N. C.

White yesterday turned in a 37-33-70, two under par, to win the $150 medal prize for the qualifying pros. One shot behind came Johnny Palmer, 25-year-old pro from Badin, N. C., and Johnny Rogers, Denver, Colo., veteran and one of the longest hitters in the field.

The blond Nelson was favored to triumph again in a punishing 72 hole test, but not by any wide margin.

The battle for the championship in the women's division for $600 in cash and war bond prizes figures to involve Betty Hicks of Long Beach, Cal., recently inducted into the Spars; Miss Patty

Vikings Will Be Here For Evening Game

Much interest has been aroused among baseball fans over the announcement that the National Forge team will play the Jamestown Vikings at Russell Field tomorrow evening with the game scheduled to get under way at 6:15 o'clock.

The fact that Hines is slated to twirl for the locals justifies the game will be no slugfest, so far as the visitors are concerned.

Children will be admitted free but must take their seats in the bleachers.

Twilight baseball in Warren has always been popular and it is expected there will be a large attendance tomorrow night.

C. students, turned out for the first of a series of one-hour five-day-a-week drills.

Philadelphia, July 22—(P)—Boxing's Service Athletic Fund was $4,309 richer today, having received 10 per cent of the gate of the Beau Jack-Johnny Hutchinson fight last Monday night. Promoter Herman Taylor said. The fund is used to buy sports equipment for men and women in the armed forces.

Philadelphia, July 22—(P)—Move over, old man Tilden. When the Eastern Association of the New York area meets the Middle States Association of the New York area Sunday at the Merion Cricket club, every player will be 45 or older. William Nassau, former national veterans' champion, and R. MR. REES OPENS: If the sale of liquor would save manpower, material and morale, it is estimated 400,000 people are employed in the sale and dispensing of intoxicating liquor. Surely men and women serving liquor are not engaged in an essential war industry. Neither are those drinking highballs and cocktails contributing to winning the war. Tons of grain, fruit, syrup and sugar—all essential food products—were used last year in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. There can be no justification for the spending of $5,000,000,000 last year for liquor when these funds are so badly needed to pay taxes and buy war bonds for the purchase of planes, tanks and ships.

Our government selects its finest young men for the armed forces, trains them to handle instruments of death, and then allows them to use a thing that dulls their senses more than any other thing in the world. There is a definite relationship between absenteeism during the first of the week and "hangovers" from excess drinking on Saturday and Sunday.

The sale and use of liquor can be controlled. A government that can ration commodities, freeze citizens to jobs, put 7,000,000 men into uniform, can do the small thing of prohibiting the sale and use of liquor when our country is in the greatest peril of its history.

MR. CARR CHALLENGES: Mr. Rees argues just like the Prohibitionists did in 1918. But the results stand out in terrible contrast with the promises they made. Prohibition gave us three illegal speak-easies for every former legal saloon. Corruption of local politics by the illegal liquor traffic gained its reputation as the most politically corrupt nation in the world. Drunken arrests doubled and tripled and police costs of maintaining law and order did likewise. Prison population, instead of being drastically reduced, nearly doubled. The American drink bill doubled over any period in history of legal sale of liquor. Where is the saving in employment, Mr. Rees?

MR. REES REPLIES: The use and sale of liquor should be stopped for the duration. It uses manpower and materials so vitally needed for the prosecution of the war. Liquor destroys morale. The millions of tons of essential products used in the manufacture of liquor are needed more for food for our soldiers, our workers and the needy people abroad. Liquor does not contribute to the winning of the war. It slows down the armed forces and workers in defense plants. Our government takes our cars, our tires, and our gasoline. It rations our clothing and our food. It is unreasonable to assume that, with all the controls and powers at hand, it cannot prohibit the use and sale of a nonessential product in a time of our country's greatest crisis.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, July 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patch, daughter Rosalie and son Robert, Jr., left Wednesday evening for California, by bus to Erie, then by train. They plan to make a stop in Salt Lake City, where they will visit Mrs. Patch's brother and sister and their families. They will then journey to Modesto, Calif., where Mrs. Patch's mother now lives and where they now expect to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Patch were entertained Saturday evening at a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Delmer. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a pleasant time. On Tuesday Mrs. Patch was the honor guest at a handkerchief shower given by Mrs. Rex Simpson at her home. Cards were the entertainment, with high score in bridge going to Mrs. S. G. McCanna. A luncheon was served.

EXPERT GARDENER TALKS
Dr. G. J. Stout, garden expert from State College was introduced by County Agent O. C. Tritt to about a score of Youngville gardeners at the garden of Rev. Dwight Jack on Church street on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Stout in his talk stressed thinning crops to get the best results; shallow cultivation, good weeding, mulching, watering deeply not very often, better than daily light sprinkling. He stressed companion and succession cropping and cover cropping of the garden for making the soil richer. He favored rye grass as a cover crop. Dr. Stout also gave a demonstration of some tools to be used in the garden.

MILITARY FUNERAL
Military funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the grave in the Youngville cemetery by members of the Halgren Wilcox Post of the American Legion.

SEE NO REASON FOR PREVAILING OPTIMISM
Philadelphia, July 22.—(P)—Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, Pennsylvania's director of Civilian Defense, finds "a terrible slump in the fighting spirit of people at home" although "no reason exists for optimism" about the outcome of the war.

"We are not within a thousand miles of attack on Japan and not one American soldier is on European soil," Hutchison told a meeting of Civilian Defense officials in city hall yesterday. "No reason exists for optimism just because of a victory or two on the periphery."

Representatives of the American Red Cross and the Citizens' Service Corps, agreeing with Hutchison, reported a growing shortage of volunteer workers.

100,000 ARMY TIRES FOR CIVILIAN USE
Washington, July 22.—(P)—More than 100,000 tires no longer suitable for severe army duty will be made available for civilian use, Acting Secretary of War Paterson announced today.

Most of the tires are the heavy cleated type used on trucks for "off the road" service and are primarily suitable for farm trucks used in moving food to market, the department said.

The tires retired from army use are turned over to the Defense Supplies Corporation (DSC) and will be released for recapping and repairs through that organization.

Rome, Naples and elsewhere.) Allied air forces again smashed at Cortone airfield and Naples railway facilities, covering their targets with bomb bursts.

Flying Fortresses again visited Grosseto airfield, 90 miles north of Rome, sprinkling their heavy loads of explosives across the runways and buildings, while fighters, fighter-bombers and intruders continued to sweep the island's railroads, highways and sea approaches by day and night.

The Italian debacle in central and western Sicily appeared to be on a scale comparable to Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's defeat at the hands of the British in the Libyan desert in 1941.

Every spark of fighting spirit appeared to have been stamped out in the ranks of an apathetic and disintegrating Italian army.

New batches of prisoners complained that their officers were deserting them, wearing civilian clothing in an effort to escape.

Castelvetro, a city of 25,000 and one of Sicily's three biggest air bases, was captured in a pre-dawn infantry assault. A huge American armored column of medium and light tanks and halftracks exploited the gain, said an Associated Press dispatch from the newly-won city.

The city fell so speedily that the defenders had time only to destroy a few of the military installations.

Nations fliers were officially credited with shooting down 19 Japanese planes and probably destroying 11 others.

Underlining the fury of the Allies' aerial striking power, a Tokyo broadcast commented on "fierce and tragic air battles" in the southwest Pacific and declared the war situation there was becoming "increasingly dark."

Details of the American advance on Munda were lacking, but a spokesman at Admiral Halsey's headquarters reported "very satisfactory progress" and indicated that the end was near.

Under tight blockade by land, sea and air, the Japanese garrison was fighting with dwindling strength.

'Bud' Fehlman Is Promoted In Coast Guard

Word has come to local relatives and friends that Maurice A. Fehlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fehlman, of Erie, formerly of Warren, has been promoted to petty officer third class at the Groton, Conn., Coast Guard station, "Bud," as he is known to friends, is expected home in August on a two-week furlough.

Two other sons of the Fehlmans are in the U. S. Navy. Willis L. Fehlman first class, is located at Grove City College for the radio communications school course of instruction. His wife, the former Evelyn Johnson, is living at Grove City with him.

A third brother, Francis E., apprentice seaman and a member of this year's high school graduating class, is at Dartmouth College under the navy's V-12 war training program.

A five-pound flatiron contains enough iron to make four hand grenades.

Neckchiefs worn by enlisted Navy men were first worn in the British Navy to mourn the death of Admiral Nelson.

Inductees To Officer Here For Hammond Enjoy Party Presentation Is Transferred

Many of the July selectees of Draft Boards 1 and 2 have not as yet returned the cards, enclosed with their invitations, to the Y. M. C. A., stating whether or not they intend to be present for the "Y" next Monday, the 26th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig will give the talk of the evening, offering helpful hints as to how best to make the life adjustments facing men as they enter the armed services. The usual question-and-answer period will be conducted, supplying much practical information for the selectees.

Delicious refreshments are being planned by the Rotary Club, which has charge of this phase of the program for July. The Club and the Y. M. C. A. will very much appreciate a reply by tomorrow morning from those who have not to date responded to the invitation.

General Secretary Wagner, Monty McClure and others who participate in the Pre-Induction meeting each month frequently receive letters from men in training camps witnessing to the real helpfulness of this event for selectees. Having the meeting prior to the Erie examinations makes it possible for the leaders to give some guidance worthwhile to those who will not pass, as well as for those who will be inducted.

COL. H. D. VOGEL COMMANDER R. G. WALLING

Col. Herbert D. Vogel, in Warren this week at the ceremony connected with the award of the Army-Navy "E" to the Hammond Iron Works, has undoubtedly served his last assignment of that character. It was announced this morning that Col. Vogel, who has been in charge of the U. S. Engineers' office in Pittsburgh for the past three years, is being transferred to an "undisclosed destination" July 29. According to the announcement, Col. Vogel said he had been assigned to a "special course of instruction at a number of points, the exact location of which are as yet undisclosed."

Vol. Vogel was in Warren with Commander R. G. Walling, of the U. S. Navy, and both were speakers at the exercises held in Russell Field when the Warren plant was awarded the much coveted "E" of the Army and Navy for excellent work in the war effort.

Reading For Hospitalized Is Needed

The library committee of the Warren General Hospital Woman's Auxiliary is assuming the task of collecting more books and magazines for the entertainment of patients of the institution and is asking the cooperation of the townspeople in a special collection campaign.

The YWCA has offered to cooperate in the movement by accepting donations in its residence building at the corner of Market street and Second avenue, from where auxiliary members will make regular collections.

Those in charge of the program explain that books desired are of the modern category and that inexpensive paper-backed fiction is particularly desirable since it is light and easy for patients to handle. Recent magazines, particularly those with full-length stories and the book-length supplements from Sunday papers, are very acceptable.

Library Performs Large Task In Promoting War Information

The very comprehensive report presented by Librarian Leon I. Jones at the annual meeting of the Warren Library Association contains a number of items of particular interest to the reading public, presented here in condensed form:

Mr. Jones stressed the fact that cooperation with local war program projects has been the largest single feature in the year's work, a large collection of books on war and peace problems being part of the library's contribution toward an informed community. The one classification which showed a marked increase over last year was history and the librarian attributed this in part to demands of the class studying problems of war and peace at the high school, and in part to the number of adult patrons keenly interested in such topics. Opposing this, the largest circulation drop was in adult fiction, indicating that readers are cutting out non-essentials in reading as well as in other phases of activity.

Quoting Mr. Jones, the library has "felt the pressure of war this past year in many ways. It has seen book prices increase; watched bindery costs rise; lost experienced staff members and been forced to replace them with untrained people. It has not been easy for the library to keep pace with rising costs and increased opportunities brought about directly or indirectly by war. At the same time, our library has accepted the additional responsibility of providing for the public up-to-date information about the war, its causes, its progress and plans for the peace which is to come. But, in spite of all this, our library has served its patrons well. It has given service to the public 307 days of the year, 159,595 books have been circulated, 5,171 citizens have used their borrowing privileges this year, averaging 30.8 volumes per borrower. Nearly 60% of the population of Warren are registered borrowers of the library. The per capita loan is 10.6 volumes."

The children's room, which has seen several personnel changes, will have a new head after September 1, when Mrs. John W. Lutz comes from the children's department of the public library system in Washington, D. C. Visits to schools have been sharply curtailed but circulation there and in the whole juvenile department shows a large increase. The 3,334 books sent out to elementary schools represents the largest figure yet reached in this work and the 7,332 volumes loaned to children is an all-time record.

The library's work with the high school continues to increase, collections growing in size and the volume of reference work continuing. Service here has included new purchases, preparation of lists, reserves of books and magazines for reference, talks given to students and conferences held with instructors.

Special activities for adults have included 92 displays, reading lists for quick selection and book talks to adult groups on 16 different occasions.

Looking to post-war days, the librarian reminded that the young people need more elbow room—a special department to accommodate books purchased for their use, shelf space for reference, reserve and special reading collections, a place where more individual guidance may be given; also that some study should be given to larger quarters for the youngest users. Recalling that the total capacity of the library building was set at 75,000, including stacks to be placed on a mezzanine floor, his book statistics showed a present stock total of 61,604. A larger trained staff, salary adjustments and a general growth in size and activity of the Warren Library Association were other post-war needs spoken of only briefly.

Concluding, Mr. Jones made this acknowledgement: "For the many gifts of books and periodicals received from friends of the library, we wish to express our thanks. To the Times-Mirror we offer our appreciation for their cooperation in making our publicity effective. To the Association, I wish to commend the continued faithfulness and cooperation of the staff and to express my own appreciation of the interest, cooperation and support of the Board of Control in carrying on of the work of the library."
